

A traditional barista cappuccino follows a strict 1:1:1 ratio of espresso, steamed milk, and dense foam, typically served in a 5-6 oz (150-180 ml) cup. The drink is defined by its thick, domed foam cap (1-2 cm above the rim) and a more pronounced coffee flavor compared to lattes.